MRS. C.R. WOOD, M.L.A.

Jesperson Wins Socred Nomination

Mrs. C.R. Wood of Stony Plain, a veteran Social Credit campaigner, was defeated at a nominating convention in Stony Plain on Saturday, February 11th.

Ralph A. Jespersen, a Spruce Grove dairy farmer, won the nomination and will carry the Social Credit colors for Stony Plain constituency in the next provincial election.

Two hundred and nineteen voting delegates attended the convention and the total attendance numbered between 250 and 275.

Livestock Breeders Form Association

About twenty ranchers and farmers of this area were present for a meeting at Sekura Auctions last Wednesday called for the purpose of forming a livestock breeders association.

A good deal of interest was shown and before the evening ended the West-Alta Livestock Breeders Association was born. The association now awaits approval of the name, and government approval of the association.

Government approval of the association depends on the availability of enough breeders to make the association successful. This was discussed at the meeting and the consensus of opinion was that no trouble should be encountered in this regard.

Heading the list of new officers of the association is Dale Bly of Tomahawk, president. Vice-president is Wendy Sekura of Drayton Valley and the secretary-treasurer is Ken MacKenzie of Drayton Valley.

Members of the Board of Directors are: W. Medd, Tomahawk; A. McLean, Alder Flats; L. Sharkey, Drayton Valley; J.A. Currie, Niton Junction; L. Miko, Evansburg; and A. Hanson, Burtonsville. The sales committee is composed of Wendy Sekura, Dale Bly and Arlie Murray.

Membership in the association, at $2.00 per year, is open to anyone. It is not restricted to purebred breeders. The hope was expressed at the meeting that swine and sheep breeders would also take an interest in the association and become members to help promote their particular interests.

Intended primarily to encourage improvement in livestock herds, the association is making plans for a government approved bull sale and is considering the possibility of a show at the same time. Under the government cattle improvement policy, bonuses are paid on sales of pure bred bulls of Hereford, Shorthorn, Aberdeen Angus, Galloway and Charolais breeding.

Members of the executive are now working toward holding a show and sale sometime in April. They will meet again at Sekura Auctions on Wednesday, February 15th.

ARDA Meeting to be Held Here Monday

Town and district residents are urged by the Drayton Valley and District Chamber of Commerce to make arrangements to attend the supper meeting Monday, February 20th to learn about the workings of ARDA (Agricultural Rehabilitation and Development Act).

The supper meeting will be held in the Cardium Room at 6:30 p.m. and tickets are now available from several sources in the community. Anyone wishing a ticket might contact Program Chairman, Wally Peters at the Treasury Branch.

The meeting is open to men and women alike with tickets selling at $2.00 each.

The basic thought behind this ARDA sponsored talk will be to inform the people in the area on the progress of ARDA throughout the province to date, and what their plans are for the future. A flannel board presentation will be given covering the principles of the social action process which Chambers of Commerce may use in their action programs. Mr. Sterling and Mr. Nagle will show how this process is achieving dramatic project results in Census Division 14 (Hinton-Edson-Whitecourt area).

The social action process deals with questions such as:
1. What makes some projects sound while others "flop"?
2. How can you make a program "click" when others fail?
3. Why is one community dead while others move ahead?

Guest speakers for the meeting will be Mr. Gordon Sterling, ARDA Director for Alberta and Mr. E.B. Nagle, Liason and Public Relations for ARDA.

The only other points in this area of West Central Alberta where the program will be presented are Hinton and Whitecourt so anyone in the surrounding region who is interested in the work of ARDA is urged to make arrangements now to attend this meeting.

Baden-Powell Week Starts

Drayton Valley Cubs and Boy Scouts will be attending their own respective churches in uniform and as a group on Sunday, February 19th to mark the occasion of the start of Baden-Powell Week, February 19th to February 25th.

Several other functions are planned for Baden-Powell Week.

Chamber Executive Meeting Thursday

A meeting of the executive of the Drayton Valley and District Chamber of Commerce will be held at noon on Thursday of this week at the Jade Cafe. Members are asked to note the change from the usual breakfast meeting. The meeting will start at 12 noon.

Weekend Action Puts Rebels in First Place

As a result of weekend NWHL action, the Drayton Valley Rebels have gained a first place tie with the Hinton Hawks.

Playing on the Hawk's home ice, the Rebels defeated them 9-4 on Sunday and played to a 7-7 tie Saturday evening. Fair to good crowds were present to see the fast, hard-hitting games.

Rebel goal scorers on Saturday were Hemmingway and Novosel, two each, and singles by Boulter, Hall and Hopfe.

Ken McMorris and Gary Pankewicz sparked the Sunday game with three goals each. Hall got two, and Novosel rounded out the scoring with a single.

The next weekend fixture, that has the Rebels playing at home, will decide first place and should present an interesting session for Drayton Valley spectators.

Jasper Totems will be here for a game Saturday evening, February 25th at 8:30 p.m. On Sunday, the 26th at 2:00 p.m., the Hawks and Rebels will clash with league leadership at stake.

The Rebels start this weekend on the Provincial playoff trail. They travel to Morinville for a game Saturday night and will meet the same club here next week.

This is a total point series with the winner advancing to the next stage of the playdowns.

Friends and relatives gathered in the Easyford Community Hall Friday evening to honor Mr. and Mrs. Mike Vowk on the occasion of their 50th wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Vowk were both born in Austria. Mrs. Vowk came to Canada with her family in 1907 when they settled in the Red River Valley area.

Mr. Vowk emigrated to Argentina in 1912 and in 1916 came to the same area in Canada where the couple met and were married on February 10th, 1917, in Winnipeg.

In the fall of 1917 they moved to Cappon on southern Alberta where six of their nine children were born. During the dry thirties they decided to move out and in 1935 arrived in the Easyford district. Three of their children were born here.

It wasn't an easy life and they endured many hardships setting up their new home. The gardens, however, were good and wild game plentiful.

All eight of their surviving children are married and they have four grandsons, ten grand granddaughters and four great-grandchildren.

Many happy acquaintances were renewed at the gathering Friday evening as family, relatives and old timers met again.

The happy couple received many lovely gifts including a chesterfield and two upholstered rocking chairs. They were presented with a cash purse from the Easyford community.

Lovely decorations in the hall were made by Mrs. Myrtle Hutchinson and Mrs. Emily Devey. The wedding cake was made and beautifully decorated by Mrs. Mary MacKenzie, Mrs. Shirley Vowk and Mrs. Frank Winters.

All the immediate family of eight children were present for the occasion. Two daughters travelled some distance to attend. Mrs. Olga Ladouceur came from Courtenay, B.C. and Mrs. Sophie Stewart from Quesnel, B.C.

Out of town guests included three brothers and one sister of Mrs. Vowk: Mr. and Mrs. Anton Kulyk, Cappon, Alberta Mr. and Mrs. Mike Kulyk, Buffalo, Alberta; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Kulyk, Buffalo, Alberta; and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Muzyka, Cereal, Alberta.

Record by Local Musicians To be Released Soon

Rosaire Parenteau of Drayton Valley is busy these days preparing for the release of the recording made by he and his son, Maurice, 14.

The tape was cut in Edmonton about a month ago and has been prepared for distribution in Toronto. The record will be sold under the Cardium label, a company formed by Mr. Parenteau for distribution purposes.

The record known as "Favorites by Rosaire and Maurice Parenteau" features the symphonic accorgan and drums. Selections, including five vocals, range from old time to modern music.

Mr. and Mrs. Parenteau were in Toronto during preparation of the record which will be distributed by Cardium through normal record outlets as far as possible.

Local Club Marks Rotary Anniversary

The Rotary Club of Drayton Valley will mark the 62nd anniversary of the founding of Rotary, the oldest of the service clubs, in Chicago, Ill., on February 23, 1905.

At its regular weekly meeting on Wednesday, February 22nd the local club plans to observe the anniversary.

Announcing the milestone, Jack Bright, president of the local Rotary club, said, "The Rotary Club of Drayton Valley is linked with more than 12,600 other Rotary clubs in 134 nations around the world. Rotary meetings marking this anniversary will be held in many languages, including Arabic, Danish, Finnish, French, Spanish, Portuguese, Japanese, and Persian."

The Rotary Club of Drayton Valley organized in 1955, has twenty members, all business and professional men of this community. Since the membership is composed of one representative of each business and profession, the club represents a cross-section of the community's vocations.

Richard L. Evans of Salt Lake City, Utah, president of Rotary International, outlined a ten-point program for Rotary clubs everywhere at the beginning of his year last July 1st. It includes extending Rotary to new communities, aiding youth, developing friendships across national borders, and "doing something for someone, somewhere."

Mr. Evans, Rotary's world leader for 1966-67, is a radio broadcaster. Since 1930, he has narrated, written and produced "Music and the Spoken Word" over a nation-wide (U.S.) network.

A major activity of the Rotary club of this community is Centennial Park next to the Rotary Kiddies Playground to be opened on July 1st with a fire works display.

Temporary Tax Information Office to be Located Here

Drayton Valley has been selected as the location of a temporary taxpayer information office by the Federal Department of National Revenue. The office will be open here for two days, March 14th and 15th in the Town Hall.

During the annual income tax filing period, district offices of the Taxation Division are called upon to provide information to taxpayers to assist them in preparation of income tax returns. Previously residents outside metropolitan areas have been obliged to obtain information by means of correspondence but in order to improve service to rural areas, temporary information offices will be set up in a number of centres throughout the province and staffed by officers from the city district offices.

The new service is being made this year because of changes in the Income Tax Act and the introduction of the Canada Pension Plan last January and it is felt by the Taxation Division that more attention should be given to taxpayers living some distance from the city district offices.

AGRICULTURAL OUTLOOK

Prospects Appear Bright

The year ahead looks like a good one for Canadian farmers. In an industry as diversified as Agriculture there are bound to be some trouble spots, but on the whole the picture looks bright.

Canada Department of Agriculture economists say farm cash receipts should hit the $4 billion mark again in 1967 – to equal or slightly exceed the record set in 1966.

For the moment at least there are no serious surpluses weighing down the farmer and indeed some of our farm products are in fairly short supply.

With the world population increasing by leaps and bounds, the position of the food producer is becoming more vital as each day passes.

Following last year's record-breaking wheat crop, we have more of this cereal on hand – 1,266 million bushels – than ever before. This means that competition for wheat sales will be keen. Canada expects to increase exports to traditional markets slightly. This, plus our contracts wih Communist countries, and what we will be supplying to developing countries, should bring total exports to 530 million bushels. The home market will take about 155 million bushels.

The forecast is for a carryover of 580 million bushels on July 31 when the crop year ends – and the experts say this is not too much.

Continuing high production of wheat will be needed. But given average yields, Canada should be able to meet the demand by planting 30 million acres to wheat – the same as in 1966.

Durum wheat supplies in North America seem sufficient to meet world demands (70 million bushels in recent years). Prices, which had been the same as for bread wheat in the last crop year, have increased in recent months because of smaller crops in other countries.

There is more feed grain on hand than ever before. Use of feed grains in Canada is not expected to rise much because feeding rates are already high and livestock numbers will increase only slightly. Feed grain stocks at July 31 should be about 6,000,000 tons. Millfeeds and other high protein supplements as well as hay are in adequate supply.

There is not as much oats around as a year ago, but enough to meet export and Canadian needs. However, stocks will be at a low level by July and a moderate increase in seeding this spring will be required to maintain a comfortable supply.

Barley is becoming more popular in feeding and exports are up a little. This trend may continue although current supplies are the highest ever. Prices should remain steady.

Domestic use of corn could top that of all previous years and prices may be higher than in 1965-66.

Canada has become an important oilseed growing nation. Export trade, particularly in rapeseed, has been increasing rapidly. Price and export prospects for rapeseed are promising and it is expected to become Canada's leading oilseed crop soon. Slightly more rapeseed meal was used in livestock feed in 1966.

Flaxseed production keeps dropping, reflecting competition from synthetics in the paint and surface-coating market. Prices should hold close to 1966 levels.

Sunflowers continue to be a relatively minor crop although the market prospects are excellent.

LIVESTOCK

Hog marketings during 1967 will be considerably above 1966 levels with average prices below last year's. Early-1967 prices will stay close to fall-1966 levels and will improve in the spring.

Supplies of fed beef will be about the same as in 1966. Total slaughter will be lower and prices higher. This year will see the commencement of rebuilding of beef herds both in Canada and the U.S.

Veal prices are expected to remain high.

Sheep marketings will probably decline, leading to lamb prices averaging above 1966 levels.

There will be more eggs produced in 1967 following the larger chick placements of last summer and fall. Prices will be below the high levels of early 1966. Prospects for profits from eggs are less favorable this year. Further expansion beyond normal replacement could lead to surplus production and depressed markets from May onward.

The rate of growth in broiler chicken production could slacken because the profit outlook is less favorable. There will be more competition from pork and turkey, but less from beef.

Turkey production costs are up too and the price outlook is not as strong as in 1966. Broiler turkey production is likely to continue to move upward in 1967.

DAIRY

About the same amount of milk will likely be produced in Canada in 1967 as in 1966 – 18.2 billion pounds. Fluid milk and cream consumption will be around 6.1 billion pounds. The outlook picture for manufactured dairy products promises: cheddar cheese output to rise to 170 million pounds; evaporated milk, unlikely to change; skim milk powder may reach 265 million pounds; ice cream sales may benefits from increased numbers of tourists and climb 4 per cent to 55 million gallons.

Butter production will be similar to last year's 330 million pounds while consumption should also stay about the same at 353 million pounds.

The quality of apples selected for export will be a factor in helping maintain the market in Britain for Canadian fresh apples in the face of keener competition from European producers. A re-opening of some old markets and expansion of smaller ones is in prospect.

The 1966 Canadian potato crop was the biggest in 40 years. Export hopes will center on additional sales to the U.S., the Caribbean, South America, and Europe. Overseas markets for frozen potato products will be developed further.

More land may be planted to sugar beets this year. The strong market for dry peas suggests there will be no difficulty in marketing the 1966 crop, and extra production this year and next is justified. Dry bean prices should stay firm.

The movement of frozen vegetables to Britain in the first half of 1966, led by frozen french fried potatoes and peas showed continuing growth. This trend should continue.

Current situation indicates that Canadian growers should produce 250 million pounds, green weight, of flue-cured tobacco this year.

In seeds, supplies of Manitou wheat and pedigreed rapeseed, alfalfa and doublecut clover are less than probable demand.

Honey and maple products will continue to be in good demand.

That's the 1967 picture. If predictions hit their mark, it will be another bumper year for Canada's agriculture.

Hockey Scholarship Plan Called 'Definite Success'

The program established last year by Molson's Edmonton Brewery to provide hockey scholarships to cover the tuition fees of Alberta boys entering university in the province has been acclaimed as a "definite success" by the Chairman of the Hockey Scholarship Program, Mr. Ed Zemrau, Director of Athletics for the University of Alberta, Edmonton.

Twelve awards were made to matriculants in Alberta on the basis of academic achievement and hockey proficiency. Seven students are currently entrolled at the University of Alberta while five are attending the University of Calgary. "It would appear that the scholarship winners are doing well academically. One of the boys has already made the University of Alberta Golden Bears in his first year and several others hold considerable promise for next year", said Mr. Zemrau. "As the program had as its purpose the furthering of educational opportunities for boys with hockey abilities, we consider this first year to be a marked success."

Mr. Zemrau said that letters would soon be going out to education and hockey officials in the province asking them to bring the program to the attention of potential candidates in their areas.

Research Project to Investigate Post-Secondary Education

A research project to discover why 50% of high school matriculants ignore opportunities for post-secondary education in Alberta will get underway this year under joint sponsorship of the Alberta Department of Youth and the University of Alberta Students Union.

Students in four Alberta high schools will be interviewed over a five month period before and after school summer holidays. The research findings will be reported to the province's Department of Youth and Department of Education. Interviews will be held in a high school in a large urban centre, a small central Alberta high school, another in southern Alberta and one in an isolated northern part of the province.

A student-to-student approach will be conducted by two full-time university students familiar with post-secondary education programs in provincial universities, technical institutes, agricultural schools, nursing schools, junior colleges and vocational centres.

Basically the project will take the form of a high school visitation project to inform students about the types of post-secondary education programs and financial assistance available to them in Alberta. Another objective of the project is to motivate and encourage all high school students to seek further education beyond matriculation.

Students from technical schools, junior colleges, nursing schools and agricultural colleges will also be brought into the program to explain to high school students why they chose a particular type of post-secondary education program, what their career plans are for the future and what life is like in post-secondary education institutions.

The student researchers will also be seeking answers to such questions as: Are you planning on further education after high school graduation? If not, what is the greatest barrier to further training for you? Would free tuition make it possible for you to go to university, to junior college, to a technical institute? Do you lack information about education programs beyond high school? Do you know about the Alberta government's student assistance program of scholarships, bursaries, grants and loans? With answers to these questions, among others, it is hoped that the research project will contribute to the achievement of equality of opportunity for more students in Alberta.

A stranger in town asked a shoeshine boy, "Son, can you direct me to the bank?"

"Yes sir, for a quarter," he said.

"Isn't that mighty high?" the man asked.

"No sir," the boy said, "not for a bank director."

Collection Record of History

Imperial Oil Limited, as a Centennial Year contribution, is making available to weekly newspapers historical drawings from the collection of C.W. Jefferys. It is the hope of Imperial Oil that two pictures a month will be made available during the year.

Dr. C.W. Jefferys, who died in 1951, produced more than 1,000 historical drawings and paintings during a long and busy career.

Dr. Jefferys retained most of the originals as a collection, foreseeing their value to students of history and art. When Imperial Oil approached Dr. Jefferys in 1950 with a proposal to purchase the drawings and assemble them in a permanent collection, he gave his ready consent.

It is hoped that the historical drawings will be of interest to Canadians and will be useful in furthering a knowledge of Canadian history.

D. V. Highlights

BY MRS. EDITH DEBY

Mr. Arthur Jorgesen received the Social Credit nomination for the Edson Constituency and will run in the next provincial election.

Monday, February 20th is W.I. night. Any lady interested in visiting, or joining, will be made most welcome at the library at eight o'clock. Mrs. Percy Hatton, of Abbottsofrd, arrived on Friday for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cull.

Mr. William Wollachlager is a patient in the General Hospital. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Krause expect to leave for their new home at Mission Beach on February 25th.

Mrs. Murray Brown of Edmonton, and Mr. Albert Brown, now living in B.C., were guests at the Vowk Golden Wedding on Friday. Both Mrs. Brown and her son are former Easyford residents.

It was a real thrill to see our own home talent on T.V. last Friday night. Thoroughly enjoyed Edwin Erickson's two accordion numbers. We are told that this talented young artist plays entirely by ear. When you have decided that the Choralaires are really superb they surprise one by bettering their own performance. Their appearance on Friday night was a musical treat. Just one question--why did the camera never swing around to show the conductor? We think he should be asked to take a bow.

Sorry to hear that Mr. Roy Burrows has not been feeling well lately. Hope you get the old bounce back soon, Mr. Burrows.

Search for Talent to be Held at Breton High School

The Breton High School Students' Union will be hosts to Search for Talent on Saturday, March 4th. Mae Martin, secretary of the Students' Union, convener, announced the show will feature local contestants competing for trophies and scholarships in 4 categories, also the Jackie Wallace group of professional entertainers from Edmonton.

The show will be held in the Breton High School auditorium commencing at 7:30 p.m. The Students' Union is participating in an advance sale of tickets which will ultimately lead to someone in Northern Alberta winning a trip for two to Expo '67. A generous portion of the advance proceeds will be presented to the Students' Union to be used for their local purposes, and the balance of the net proceeds from the show go to the Northern Alberta Crippled Children's Fund, now in its twentieth year as a project of the Associated Canadian Travellers of Edmonton.

Ray Engel, director of Search for Talent for the A.C.T. advises that the professional show will feature such radio and television stars as Frank Hockaday, comedian and ventriloquist, Donna Martinson, flame-baton twirler and dancer; and the popular Wildwood Singers, a folksinging duo. Joy Martin will be the pianist-accompanist; Jim Bladon is the stage and equipment manager and the master of ceremonies will be Maury Banks of CFRN-Radio.

Miss Martin urges all those who are intending to compete to register immediately at Samardzic's Garage, as registrations are limited to twenty and the time is short.

Although the Versailles treaty of World War I prohibited Germany from producing powered airplanes, it did not completely frustrate the defeated country's interest in aviation. German engineers soon invented the first real sail-plane. This craft, which made sensational flights in 1922, was called the "Vampyre".

Our Alberta Heritage

PIONEER RANCH LIFE

How did it really feel to live on a pioneer Alberta ranch 70 years ago? Here are the words of one High River pioneer.

"A log or lumber house is built, then simply furnished. There are no elaborate meals or superfluous furniture. I like the endless riding over the prairie, the wind sweeping the grass, the herds moving from water to water, the fun of coyote hunting. I like the monotony and the change, the flannel shirts, the LIBERTY!"

Certainly, there were hardships to be endured, but the cheerful and optomistic outlook usually prevailed. The words just quoted were written in 1898 by Moira O'Neill, just one of those proud, enterprising women pioneers, whose independent spirit contributed so much to the heritage of OUR ALBERTA.

CENTENNIAL YEAR WILL BRING SUPER-TRAFFIC TO ROADS

The celebration of Canada's centennial will generate more road traffic than any other event or 12-month period in this country's history, the Canadian Good Roads Association forecasts in a national survey, reported in Heavy Construction News. Some 85% of Canadians and visitors will do their travelling by car, will travel 2.5 billion miles in pursuit of Centennial pleasure and motor vehicle mileage will reach a record 70 billion miles in 1967, compared with 37 billion miles a decade ago.

Road construction for the year will see the completion of many projects undertaken for centennial year, the rate of increase will taper off slightly from the major increases of the past six years. Road expenditures for 1967 will be maintained well over the $1.5 billon mark.

MINOR HOCKEY NIGHT

The first annual Minor Hockey Night was a great success. The event sponsored by the Drayton Valley Athletic Association and held at the Centennial Civic Centre last Friday evening drew over 400 fans and judging from the vocal response throughout the evening, we can safely say that everyone had a jolly time. Parents, relatives and friends came to see the boys play hockey and to witness an artistic display of figure skating on the part of the girls and some of the boys. From all reports they liked what they saw.

The evening's proceedings got under way with a period of Mite Hockey. The rink was divided into two equal parts and all four teams went into action at once. The Red Wings downed Swanee's 6-2 and the Polar Bears edged J & A Trucking 3-1. Next came the Pee Wees with the Lions facing the Rotarians for one period. The Lions edged out a 2-1 victory in that one. Our Pee Wee All Star team, the Drayton Valley Hotel Oilers took on the Drayton Valley Tigers, our Bantam squad. The Bantams won that fixture 5-1. In the final period of the evening's play the Drayton Valley Elks took on the Pembina Pipeliners. The Pipeliners, the Juvenile squad won by a 1-0 score over the re-inforced Midget Elks.

During the twenty minute intermission period at the half way mark in the program the members of the Drayton Valley Figure Skating Club took over and treated the crowd to an outstanding performance in the fine art of figure skating. Approximately 80 skaters took part in this phase of the program under the direction of Lynn Burrows, Linda Hinecker and Linda Astle. This was a preview of the annual Ice Carnival scheduled for April 8th at the Centennial Civic Centre.

Steve Hrynyk won the door prize, a transistor radio and John Schneider took the prize, a pair of hockey gloves, for the most tickets sold by a minor hockey player.

It was a great night for Minor Hockey in Drayton Valley and a very important event for every young hockey player.

He learns that to be a good hockey player and be a credit to his team he must keep his body in good condition and live a clean life. He learns that personal glory must be sacrificed for the benefit of the team. In short, our minor hockey program has one chief objective. That objective is to help you to bring up your son as a good citizen and as a good Canadian.

A tip of the ten gallon sombrero to the executive of the Athletic Association, Clayton Rosenberger, Fred DeGeest, Joe Balen and Hugh MacKenzie for the presentation of a splendid program and on behalf of that Association I wish to thank each and every person who helped make Minor Hockey Night the success that it was. A special thanks to the Drayton Valley Figure Skating Club, to the Rebel Hockey Club, to our M.C. Doug Barnes, and to the sponsors, the commissioners and the coaches of all our Minor Hockey teams. A sincere thanks to one and all and we look forward to other great Minor Hockey Nights in years to come.

CUTTING THE FIGURES

Did you know that the Ice Carnival scheduled for April 8, in the Centennial Civic Centre will be Drayton Valley's 12th Annual Ice Carnival and of course the first one in the new Civic Centre. A few of the past years the Carnival was held in the Curling Rink, however, in a majority of cases it was held at the Rotary Community Park Rink. Unfavorable weather was always a problem and more than once the whole program had to be postponed if not cancelled which was most frustrating for all concerned. Weather will be no problem this year and on April 8th, we can look forward to the biggest and best Ice Carnival ever presented in Drayton Valley.

The membership of our Figure Skating Club presently totals 105 and those girls and boys range in age from four to fourteen years....a very impressive membership indeed. The skaters are divided into five different catagories depending on qualifications and previous tests passed. We have: 1. Beginners--children who could not skate at all at the beginning of the season. 2. Preliminary I--children who start to learn the basics of figure skating. 3. Preliminary II--Those who are training in the art of balance. 4. Bronze Medal--Those training in the different figures. 5. Silver Medal--Those training in dancing on skates.

Congratulations to the several boys who have taken up figure skating this year. Figure skating is definitely a man's sport too. The amount of energy used in a full free-skating competitive program would be more than equal to that of a player in a hard game of hockey. Just watch the spectacular speed and agility of a top figure skater and compare this to other sports and games. Figure skating is also a great conditioner and perfect training for young hockey players. Remember, if you cannot skate, you have little hopes of every becoming any kind of a hockey player.

All skaters in the local Figure Skating Club, who qualify for examination, will be tested on Sunday, February 19th from 8:00 a.m. until noon. It was not the original intention of the Club to hold these tests on Sunday, however, this recently became the only date available in order to obtain the desired judges from the Alberta Figure Skating Association.

Alberta Tour Officially Opens February 22

The Confederation Train, the Centennial Commission's travelling showcase of Canada from the dawn of history to the present, officially opens its Alberta tour at Jasper, on February 22nd. It will visit six centres in the province from then until March 25th before continuing its 331-day journey across the rest of Canada. Besides Jasper, it will visit Edmonton, Calgary, Red Deer, Lethbridge and Medicine Hat.

When in a city, the train will be open to the general public seven days a week from 9:00 a.m. until 11:00 p.m.

It is expected that more than 2½ million Canadians will tour the train during its trip.

The gaily-painted 15-unit Confederation Train is no ordinary one. It's a sight and sound adventure through Canadian history that took three years to plan and another one to build. Unusual lighting and sound effects, artifacts and historic documents, life-like displays and colorful photography all blend in one continuous exhibit to give visitors a vivid description of what Canada means.

Visitors will pass through a primeval forest. They will walk through a darkened mine shaft, over a section of early railway track, into a wheat field. They will experience the sensations of taking steerage passage to Canada on a sailing ship, of living in the hectic years of the roaring twenties, and of fighting in two world wars. They will pause for a moment of reflection in the Chamber of Confederation.

Historic items on display range from Joseph Howe's printing press and Louis Riel's pistol to Amundsen's anchor and a Viking sword. All artifacts--more than 100--have been collected from every corner of the country.

Altogether, the train is staffed by a permanent team of 26 men under the supervision of the train manager and his assistant. This group of specialists includes exhibit attendents, electricians, mechanics, other specialists and a seven-man RCMP contingent, which is responsible for the train's security.

In addition to the six exhibits cars, the train is made up of two diesel engines provided by the two national railways and seven service cars, which have sleeping, dining and baggage facilities.

The train's 83 exhibit stops will be in 63 of Canada's major cities and towns.

The train was officially opened in Victoria on January 9th. It is working its way eastward until it reaches the Atlantic Provinces, October 26th. Then it will swing back into Quebec before completing its itinerary in Montreal on December 15th.

Canadians who live some distance from any of the 63 cities and towns on the train's itinerary will have the opportunity to visit one of the eight Confederation Caravans that will tour 655 communities during Centennial Year.

Altogether, there will be eight caravans, each made up of eight 73-foot long tractor-trailers, travelling in various parts of Canada. They will be the largest vehicles ever to travel on Canadian roads and will contain exhibits similar to those on the train.

In The Legislature

By Mrs. C. R. Wood, M.L.A.

On Thursday, February 9th, the fifth session of the 15th Alberta Legislature opened with the usual pomp and ceremony. A fifteen gun salute was fired by the 20th Field Artillery Regiment, Royal Canadian Artillery, as the Lieutenant Governor stepped out of his car in front of the Legislative Building.

A twenty-five man Guard of Honor was inspected by His Honor in the rotunda of the building following the salute played by the Regimental Band on the arrival of His Honor.

Lieutenant-Governor J. Grant MacEwan, dressed in his ceremonial gold-trimmed suit and plumed headgear, read the Speech from the Throne. It foretold a record number of bills to be presented to the session. The much discussed Municipal Act is to be presented and referred to the Committee of the Whole Assembly giving all interested persons an opportunity to make recommendations. The bill will be held until next session allowing time for the government to make any a amendments offered at the hearings.

A committee is to be named to select an Ombudsman from the 100 or more applicants.

Changes in the Vehicle and Highway Traffic Act will be introduced and designed to ensure vehicle inspection. A white paper will be brought down which will outline guide rules for development of a program on human resources and a Human Resources Research Council will be established.

Increased laboratory services and more scientific research for livestock producers will be instituted and attention given to the business management aspects of Agriculture and to problems relating to the production of cereal and forage crops, economics and marketing.

A third university campus is to be established in Lethbridge this year and plans made for a fourth one to be built later near or in Edmonton. To offset the rising construction costs of public and high schools throughout the Province, revisions are to be made in the Foundation Program.

Mental Health facilites will be improved in an orderly manner and construction will be started this year on the Alberta Hospital, Calgary. Legislation to improve and simplify and subsidized Health Care Insurance program will be introduced.

A bill will be introduced to provide a right of appeal to the Courts for compensation orders of the Board of Arbitration under the Right of Entry Arbitration Act and also from Orders for the performance of work issued under the Surface Reclamation Act.

A major highway construction program is planned and the final contract has been let to complete the David Thompson Highway to the grading stage between Nordegg and the Banff boundary. The program of replacement of river ferries with bridges will be continued and a new program is to be introduced to assist towns and villages in street and road construction.

Seventeen bills were introduced--a record number to be introduced as early in a session. Members will be able to study them earlier.

In reply to a question, Hon. Gordon Taylor stated that snow plowing in drive-ways in L.I.D.'s is now in effect if the highway has been plowed first, second that the applicant fills out a form agreeing to pay for the services and exempting the Department from any damage claim to property, gates, etc.

E.P. Benoit, (S.C. Okotoks-High River) moved the reply to the speech from the throne and reported satisfaction of his town with the R.C.M.P. under the new provincial arrangements.

Michael Sneych (S.C. Redwater) who seconded the motion stated that a nation is judged by its education standards and while Alberta enjoys a high standard of living because of its high educational standard he urged that general colleges be started for the numbers of young people who need other than University or Vocational training.

The UNEXPLAINED
My proof of survival

by Thomas Hawthorne.
As told to Doreen Conn.

Thomas Hawthorne who is a man seventy-six years old told me this strange story relating to Re-Incarnation. The story concerns his son who had died in the armed services during an air raid over Hamburg, Germany in 1942.

Thomas Hawthorne had married twice. His first wife Leata (who suffered from cancer during the last two years of her life) gave birth to three daughters and one son. The son Philip or Phil for short was the most doted one of their children, being the only son.

The last world war was raging and Phil had joined the air force and was taking part in air raids over Germany, while at home his mother Leata had taken a turn for the worse, and the doctors only gave her a few days to live. She herself was quite aware of her approaching death.

Leata called her husband Thomas to her bedside a few hours before death, and asked him to marry her sister Maude after her death, as she wanted her home kept as it was for the family to visit.

Shortly after Leata's death, Thomas and Maude adhered to her last request and were married quietly in the little Church near their home on Norford Road outside of London.

Thomas's three daughters had attended the wedding, but his son Phil was unable to obtain leave from the air force., as heavy raids were still being carried on over Germany.

Maude had lived a spinster until then and was over forty years of age, but she was broad-minded and truly religious and like her husband Thomas was greatly interested in Psychic seances and had for some years previously been a member of a Spiritualist Church in London, England.

It happened one evening that Thomas and Maude were sitting concentrating trying to contact the spirit of Leata, as the two sisters had been devoted to one another in life.

Suddenly at almost the identical minute they both slipped off into a trance state. A voice spoke to them, but it was not the voice of Leata. After a short interval Thomas recognized it as the voice of Phil, who informed him he had a few hours previously been killed in an air raid over Hamburg, Germany, when his 'plane had exploded in the air. The following is mostly in Thomas's own words!

They were both stunned after coming out of the trance to be informed by military personnel bringing them the sad message that Phil had indeed been killed in his 'plane.

They held more sittings, and here is where the big surprise came in. During the last sitting in which Phil came to them, his Spirit informed his father in these words (which were startling indeed and which the father will never forget). "Dad this is the last time I will come to you in the Spirit. Everytime I come I take the strength that I require in my future life, and that of my mother. I will be reborn as your baby boy in less than nine months."

"This came as a big surprise for both my wife Maude and myself, in fact Maude joked about it, and said it must be the work of some mischievious Spirit imitating Phil's voice."

"I suggested we go to the family doctor, and confide in him over the strange message we had just received, after my wife agreed to this proposal, and a physical examination, we had our greatest surprise, as the physician informed us that Maude my wife was pregnant, and in a little over eight months her baby would be born if all went well."

"We were never able to contact our son any more in the Spirit world, and true to what he informed us our son was born in less than nine months. We named him Philip, same as in his previous life. He was for all the world my son, who had come back, and was reborn again to me. In fact he is addicted to the same things."

"He is now married and living in Adelaide, Australia, and has two children of his own. But this proves to me the re-birth of the Soul. My wife Maude having been in her early forties when I married her didn't for one moment think she was pregnant when given this message of Phil's rebirth."

"It is unusual -- but not unknown -- for a soul to be reborn in so short a space of time. Usually there are many years between re-incarnations. The fact that this soul was reborn into the same family would however obviate many of the difficulties that would otherwise arise."

"My wife is at present in Australia visiting our son and his wife, whom have settled in Australia's most beautiful city. He is employed as an electrican, with an electrical firm in Adelaide.

Tribesmen still use blowguns

Tribesmen in southwest New Britain practice a skill not found elsewhere in Melanesia; they hunt with blowguns 12 to 20 feet long.

Until recent years the islanders engaged in murderous warfare. Now the favourite target is the fruit bat, or the flying fox, a delicacy in the local diet. Other mouth-watering dishes include baked prime young python and roast eel.

The blowgun hunters belong to two tribes, the Kaulong and Sengseng, that live in the Passismunua area of southwest New Britain. Their island lies off the east coast of New Guinea, and is administered by Australia as part of the United Nations Trust Territory of New Guinea.

ANTHROPOLOGISTS STUDY:

Two anthropologists, Jane Goodale and Ann Chowning, lived among the primitive people for 13 months. Their study of the islanders' habits, environment, folkways, history, and religion was supported by National Geographic Society and the National Science Foundation.

The two American women stayed in isolated villages 10 miles apart. Dr. Goodale reports, however, "To say the people live in these villages is to use the word loosely. They prefer to spend most of their time in the surrounding forest where they can be close to the gardens and game that provide their food. Here they sleep in small huts and tend plots of taro, manioc, tobacco, sugarcane, and other crops.

"Only on special occasions, such as the weekly cleanup days, the day of the annual census, or other rare visits from government officers, do all the people gather in the villages, which they built on official orders."

"Small Fry Humor"

Our young son had just come to the breakfast table when my husband commented on the light rain that had begun to fall.

He said "It is good for anything that is up, (referring to plants)."

Our son said, "I'm up and it's not good for me!"

Our cousins were visiting us one day and their two small fry happened to be standing on two chairs beside the wall. Above their heads was a wall plaque which read, 'Do Unto Others as Ye Would Have Them Do Unto You.'

One boy twisted the others arm, and the other boy twisted the other ones arm back and said, "See, this is what it says, Do Unto Others as They Do Unto You."

It was the day after the Valentine Party at school. My little 4 year old brother had been with the older ones at the party. We girls were talking about our Valentine Party's when we went to school. My older sister said, "the teacher never picked me to give out Valentines." I said, "I got picked in the third grade." My little brother piped up and said, "I got picked once." "Did you?" I asked. "Yeah, last year, a chicken picked me."

BIG HOUSING YEAR - "IF" - The biggest homebuilding year in Canada's history will take place in 1967 if financing permits, so says Herbert W. Hignett president of Central Housing & Mortgage Corp., & Howa, as reported in Canadian Builder, whose editor Clifford Fowke adds ~~with his typical Scottish burr~~"... with his typical Scottish burr "... and one can be assured that the federal government will do everything it can to encourage it." Fowke has been a persistent critic of N.H.A. interest-rate and other policies and of the federal sales tax on building materials as deterrents to filling the need for homes in Canada. Hignett says, according to Canadian Builder, that the federal government admits 170,000 homebuilding starts are required for 1967 if the housing gap is to be closed, with a goal of 750,000 units in the next four years just to keep up with the accelerating population growth.

tribesmen is controlled by taboos, fears, and beliefs in magic spells. "Once," said Dr. Goodale, "I was forced to abandon my house and take refuge in the forest with the natives who had fled their garden huts to hide from an epidemic which they envisioned as an evil spirit stalking victims in the bush. Since we were part of their world, we governed ourselves by their code."

MERITS PUNISHMENT:

In the Kaulong code, anyone who causes fright or undue sorrow among fellow tribesmen deserves punishment. A man who turned up alive after being reported dead was soundly beaten by female relatives, who had been grieving, and forced to pay them compensation for their premature sorrow. He raised no objection. The homecoming ordeal was considered by all to be correct and proper.

The tribesmen mince no words when it comes to money. They readily accept Australian or other currency. "I think we'll all cry when you leave. We make so much money out of you," one sentimentalist confessed to Dr. Goodale.

Golden-edged pearl shells are the money most prized on New Britain. Young bachelors are considered too immature to hold onto such wealth; they must give their shells to married relatives for safe-keeping.

The Kaulong take marriage seriously. Premarital relations are regarded as a grave offense; yet it is not unusual for men to marry as late as 30. Some men are so marriage-shy that they dash into the forest at the approach of an eligible girl.

"Prepare him for the O.R.," said the doctor.

"Operation?" Dad said weakly "Not until I make my will. Call my lawyer."

"There's no time," said the doctor.

"There's time," said Dad. While the doctor paced the floor, Dad carefully dictated his will to his lawyer and had it signed and witnessed. He then surrendered himself to the operating room.

"You had the worst old appendix I've ever seen," the doctor told him next morning. "Any ordinary human being would have died."

"It couldn't have been an appendix," came the retort. "Mine burst thirty years ago."
